

In the talk, without getting deeply into the formalism, I will compare very briefly the standard QM and the non-hermitian approach in QM which enables us to predict new phenomena and propose new types of experiment, without even doing calculations, just from the analysis of the simplex expression we derived.